

ASALH BIO

Krewasky A. Salter is a United States Army Colonel (Ret.) and Founder, President and CEO of

4K Enterprises, LLC—an Academic Research and Development small business. He is a (Guest) Associate Curator, Project Historian and Military Subject Matter Expert at the Smithsonian Institution, National Museum of African American History and Culture (NMAAHC), where he curates the inaugural military exhibition titled: Double Victory: The African American Military Experience which opened Fall 2016. He is a contributing author and advisor to three of NMAAHC's most recent publications: Dream A World Anew: The African American Experience and the Shaping of America, Volume #5 Double Exposure: Fighting For Freedom and

Many Lenses: The Buffalo Robe. He is also working with NMAAHC to develop a World War I exhibit scheduled to open in 2019. Krewasky serves on the Army Historical Foundation (AHF) Board of Directors which has oversight of the development of the National Museum of the United States Army that is scheduled to open in 2019 as well. Krewasky is the Associate Producer and Senior Historian for the United States Army sponsored documentary titled: Unsung Heroes: The Story of America's Female Patriots which began airing on the Public Broadcasting Service in May 2014. He authored an educational resource which accompanied the documentary that can be found at www.unsunheroeseducation.com. He wrote The Story of Black Military Officers, 1861 – 1948, published in 2014, which peaked at number 2 on publisher Routledge, Taylor and Francis Group's "Top 10 History Titles" for 2014 and was selected as an Association of the United States Army book. Krewasky has more than nine other publications and documentary credits and over seven years of academic experience, including teaching Military History at the United States Military Academy, West Point; Military Strategy at the Command and General Staff College, Leavenworth; Military Leadership at Howard University, Washington, D.C.; and African American History at several other institutions as an adjunct professor. Krewasky holds a Bachelor of Science from the University of Florida, where he was a Distinguished Military Graduate, a Master of Strategic Studies from the Air War University, and an M.A. and Ph.D. from Florida State University where he studied Military History and African American History. A trained United States Army Airborne Ranger who commanded at every level through battalion, Dr. Salter served as a senior staff officer at the Pentagon before retiring from the military after more than 25 years of active duty service.