

JARVIS R. GIVENS

COUNCIL AWARD OF SPECIAL RECOGNITION

Jarvis R. Givens is an Assistant Professor of Education and African American Studies, and the Suzanne Young Murray Assistant Professor at the Radcliffe Institute for Advanced Study. His first book, Fugitive Pedagogy: Carter G. Woodson and the Art of Black Teaching, was published in 2021 by Harvard University Press. He is currently building The Black Teacher Archive, an online portal that will house digitized records documenting the more than one-hundred-year history of "Colored Teacher Associations." Professor Givens's research has been supported by fellowships and grants from the Ford Foundation, the Andrew W. Mellon Foundation, and the William F. Milton Fund. Professor Givens earned his PhD in African American studies from the University of California, Berkeley.
