

AARP of Pennsylvania in Community Partnership with
The Association for the Study of African American Life and History (ASALH)
Philadelphia Heritage Branch

Presents a Three-Part Series on the Theme:
“History as Genealogy, Genealogy as History”

“Finding Our Families: The Common Denominator”
All presentations share the common theme of prioritizing schools (education) and churches.

Date: March 3, 2022 - 5:30 PM - Registration Link: <https://cvent.me/N9PxRy>
Regina Vaughn will focus on her family enslaved in Newberry, South Carolina from c.1822-1865 by the Floyd and Tribble slave holding families. In 1866, her great- great-grandfather Hampton Tribble signed, with his mark, a labor contract with Elijah Tribble. Regina will trace her great-grandparents, Rev. George and Fannie Tribble Glenn’s, migration to Philadelphia. (1917)

Date: April 7, 2022 - 5:30 PM - Registration Link: <https://cvent.me/eOVOaV>
Joyce Mosley, the author of "Gram's Gift," will tell the story of her African American family with African, European, and Native American roots living in Philadelphia as free people during slavery. She traces her family history to Cyrus Bustill, born enslaved, purchased his freedom, operated a successful bakery, and provided bread for George Washington's troops at Valley Forge the winter of 1777-1778.

Date: May 5, 2022 - 5:30 PM - Registration Link: <https://cvent.me/P0a0Er>
Guy Oreido Weston, Managing Director of the Timbuctoo Historical Society, will discuss his maternal ancestry in Timbuctoo, New Jersey, where his fourth great grandfather bought land in 1829. He will discuss the development of Timbuctoo in its early years, drawing from deeds from land purchased by Black people, corporation certificates, census records, and newspaper articles, many of which go back decades before the Civil War.

Philadelphia Heritage Branch

