

The Mt. Pleasant Library presents a screening of

BARRY FARM: COMMUNITY, LAND, AND JUSTICE

From formerly enslaved people who purchased land here in the 1860s to Go-Go music in the 1980s—Barry Farm: Community, Land, and Justice in DC tells a story of community, racial segregation, displacement, and resistance.

After the screening there will be a moderated discussion with filmmakers Dr. Sabiyha Prince and Sam George, Q&A, and an opportunity to talk with the DC Oral History Collaborative about local history preservation.

This free program is for ages 13+ and is co-sponsored by the Association for the Study of African American Life and History (ASALH).

SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 4TH
2-4 PM

REGISTRATION OPTIONAL. SCAN THE QR CODE

DC Public Library

MT. PLEASANT NEIGHBORHOOD LIBRARY

3160 16th St NW, Washington, DC 20010

202-671-3122 mtpleasantlibrary@dc.gov

To request a reasonable accommodation:

Email DCPLaccess@dc.gov or call 202-727-2142

HumanitiesDC